

Resident Spotlight

Travis

Travis was born in Ralls, Texas, and lived there until he was three years old. He and his family moved to New Mexico, where he grew up. While in high school, Travis was part of “For Boys’ State Governor,” running for the chief executive title and Federalist Party Governor of Carlsbad. After high school, he joined the Army and became a “LTC” Educator. This led him on a path to politics. He worked for the Republican party in Texas as their public relations person. Travis was awarded a letter and a signed picture from Ronald Reagan, Governor of California, for all of his planning and coordinating efforts in Dallas. Travis got married and had two children. He also owned a record store in Texas where his daughter worked along side him. Some of Travis’s hobbies are photography, and singing, worship, and country music. Travis now has two grandchildren that he adores. He is a delight to have at our community.
